Distinguished Theologian Expresses Support to Prison Students

Tucson, AZ: A Christian college that ministers to prisoners is pleased to announce that noted theologian Wayne Grudem has written a personalized message to its students. The school, which uses Grudem's book, Bible Doctrine, for its Systematic Theology course, is honored to receive support from such a distinguished scholar.

"We couldn't be happier about Dr. Grudem's support," said David Johnson, Chairman of the Board for Genesis. "It's refreshing to know that top leaders today are concerned for those in prison and want to see lives changed through the power of the gospel."

Grudem, who is Professor of Theology and Biblical Studies at Phoenix Seminary, has contributed countless journal articles and scholarly books to the field of Biblical Theology. He is also the General Editor of the best-selling ESV Study Bible.

In Grudem's note to students, he says that he is glad to hear they are studying his book. Then he states, "But far more important than my book is the Bible itself, which is the most valuable item in the world (for without it how would we know God and come into a personal relationship with him?)."

Grudem also encourages prisoners to develop their spiritual growth. He writes, "I hope you have by now developed a lifelong habit of personal Bible reading and prayer each day. Maintaining a personal relationship with God is the most important thing you can do if you want to preserve God's blessing on your future ministry."

Genesis College and Seminary offers distance learning courses to inmates at no cost. The college is a 501(c)3 formed in 2018 by an interdenominational team of pastors, teachers, professors, administrators, and inmates.
