FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Genesis College Partners with Aneko Press

TUCSON, AZ: Genesis College and Seminary is pleased to announce it has signed an agreement with Aneko Press, a publishing company that distributes books to prison facilities and third-world countries. Aneko Press not only publishes books with conservative, biblical values but also updates and republishes Christian classic books, including classics from such authors as Dwight L. Moody, R.A. Torrey, Charles H. Spurgeon, J.C. Ryle, and A.W. Tozer.

Genesis College's prison ministry, Genesis Bible Institute, will utilize Aneko Press' books in its Bible courses. Under the agreement, Aneko Press authorizes Genesis College to publish its books free of charge on Edovo, the learning platform Genesis Bible Institute uses to offer courses to inmates nationwide. Genesis College will also be translating select Christian classic books into Spanish, helping Aneko Press to increase its Spanish offerings.

"We are delighted to partner with Aneko Press as we continue to expand our ministry," said David Johnson, Chairman of the Board of Trustees for Genesis College and Seminary. "We currently have some 1,600 prisoners enrolled with us across the nation on Edovo, and our partnership with Aneko Press allows us to continue to provide quality free materials to prisoners as we train them to be Christ-exalting disciples."

Genesis College and Seminary is a 501(c)3 based in Tucson and formed in 2018 by an interdenominational team of pastors, teachers, professors, administrators, and inmates. The ministry is endorsed by many noted community leaders and theologians, all of whom have a heart to see inmates experience life transformation.
